ANNUAL NEWSLETTER 2011

Dear Friends of the Alliance,

Annual Greetings! Our 28th year brought another superb lecture series and another busy year for the Alliance. The Alliance supported the following community events: Simcha Sunday, the Jewish World Watch Walk to End Genocide in Santa Rosa sponsored by teenage Genocide activist Gabe Ferrick, the Annual Community Yom HaShoah Commemoration at the Friedman Center, the Yom HaShoah Candle Lighting Ceremony at Shomrei Torah, the 96th Annual Armenian Genocide Commemoration, and the 17th Annual Tutsi Genocide Commemoration at the Sacramento State University. Alliance Board members not only supported the Third International Genocide Conference at Sacramento State University co-sponsored by the SSU Center and Friends of Rwanda but Board Members Hans Angress, Lillian Mattimore, and Barbara Lesch McCaffry, Ph.D. presented papers at the conference. I was honored as guest speaker at the Yom HaShoah commemoration at Shomrei Torah and 17th Annual Tutsi Genocide Commemoration.

We welcomed three new board members in 2011: Arline Thomas, Rancho Cotate High School teacher, Lionel Rawlins, Ph.D., Friends of Rwanda, and Zina Besirevic, Bosnian Genocide Survivor. We had to say goodbye to Rich Morley who relocated to Southern California and look forward to B.J. Stolbov's return home after a 2 year commitment with the Peace Corps in the Philippines. We continue to seek new board members, especially to fulfill representation from all genocides, and welcome anyone interested in joining the board.

Moving into our 29th year would not be possible without your kind contributions and we are truly grateful for your continued financial support as well as attending our lecture series and speaker dinners.

We once again acknowledge special appreciation to the Jewish Community Federation of San Francisco, The Peninsula, Marin, and Sonoma Counties whose very generous grant for a third year will support the 2012 Robert L. Harris Memorial Lecture and reception.

With deepest gratitude,

Christyne Davidian

Report from the Center for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide at Sonoma State

2011 was another active year for the Center. The 28th Annual Lecture Series: "History, Memory and Testimony" featured several compelling lectures: Holocaust survivors Hans Angress, Vera Korkus, Lillian Mattimore, Maurice Blaug and Paul Schwarzbart shared their experiences. Dr. James Waller presented his powerful lecture that explains how given the right set of circumstances, all individuals are capable of doing great harm to others. In Genocide Beneath Our Feet, Greg Sarris, Chairman of the Federated Indians of the Graton Rancheria, returned to the Warren Auditorium podium to speak on the continuing effects of the eradication of Native American culture in Marin and Sonoma counties. In addition to Dr. Michael Berenbaum, who presented the Robert L. Harris Memorial Lecture, we were awed by a spirited performance: "Armenian Lullaby and Folk Traditions" by Hasmik Harutyunyan and Kitka Women's Vocal Ensemble. The Armenian Genocide Memorial Lecture featured Sergio LaPorta, Ph.D. and Carl Wilkins' inspiring story, "The World Outside My Shoes" was presented in cooperation with the SSU IRA fund. We were also moved by Dr. Lucia Roncalli's lecture which outlined the dimensions of the Cambodian Genocide.

On November 2-4 2011, the Center co-sponsored the Third International Genocide Conference at Sacramento State University. Mathilde Mukantabana, a member of the Alliance for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide Board, was a principle conference organizer. The Center underwrote the keynote speech by Dr. James Waller. In addition to introducing Dr. Waller, I was the organizer of a panel entitled: Genocide in Bosnia, Sudan and the Pedagogy of Teaching Genocide. Dr. Barbara Lesch McCaffry presented her paper, "Fractured Lives: Family and Identity in Holocaust Memoirs of Hidden Children." Hans Angress and Lillian Mattimore presented papers at the panel on Survivor Memories. Alliance Board members Hans Angress, Larry Carlin, Flora Lee Ganzler, Lillian Mattimore, Mathilde Mukantabana, Lionel Rawlins, Ph.D. (a conference organizer) and David Salm, Retired Alliance Board and Senior Advisor, attended. Sergio LaPorta, Ph.D. and Ara Oshagan, who had been invited to speak at the conference by Christyne Davidian, participated in the Armenian Genocide Panel.

The 2012 series "Lessons and Legacies: Learning from the Past," will feature several distinguished speakers. Sergio La Porta, Ph.D. will present the Armenian Genocide Memorial Lecture. Also, this year in cooperation with SSU's Associated Students Productions (ASP), we will feature filmmaker Socheata Poeuv who will introduce and comment on her film "New Year Baby," an award winning exploration of the legacies of the Cambodian Genocide. The series will also feature lectures on the genocide in Kosovo and the origins of current conditions in the Sudan. The Robert L. Harris Lecture will feature Claudia Stevens, Ph.D. in her one woman exploration of the legacies of the Holocaust: "An Evening with Madame F."

The Center received several generous donations this past year, including a continuing award from Henry and Lucille Libicki through the Jewish Community Federation Endowment. The family of Adele Zygielbaum established a memorial fund in her memory and the proceeds are being used to support the Series and the work of the Center. The 2011 Series was also supported, in part, through a generous grant from the Sonoma State University Instructionally Related Activities Fund which is supported by student fees. Associated Student Productions (ASP) continued their strong support and, thanks to Bruce Berkowitz and Casey Kelly, we co-sponsored the presentation of Carl Wilkins who refused to leave Rwanda when all Western citizens were evacuated during the genocide.

Our work this year has also benefited from the encouragement and support of the Alliance Board. I am most appreciative of the strong support I have received from Christyne Davidian and Barbara Lesch McCaffry. Community and board member support on behalf of our work is deeply appreciated; it assures the continuing success of our mission.

We are very excited about the forthcoming dedication of the Anne Frank sapling on May 20, 2012 at the Holocaust and Genocide Memorial. I look forward to seeing you at the 2012 Series which promises to be exceptional.

A LEGACY CONTINUES:

SSU HOLOCAUST AND GENOCIDE MEMORIAL IS HOME TO 1 OF 11 SAPLINGS FROM ANNE FRANK TREE

By Jean Wasp • Reprinted from SSU Insight Magazine Summer 2011

The story of a sapling taken from the horse chestnut tree that often lifted Anne Frank's spirits as she hid from the Nazis during World War II took a poignant twist last year. SSU was one of 11 locations nationwide that had received a sapling in December 2009 taken from the mature, aging tree that resided behind the Annex where Anne Frank, her family and friends spent two years in hiding.

By August 2010, the 150-year-old chestnut that was the parent of the SSU sapling was toppled by strong winds after battling fungus and moth infestations for several years. Thankfully, the legacy will live on.

The sapling is currently growing in a special shade house under lock and key for three years supervised by Sam Youney, Director of Landscaping, who is an expert in plant diseases and pest control. It is protected so rain, rodents and insects cannot penetrate it. Arriving as an 18-inch tall cutting, it now has reached three feet in height, says Youney.

In three years, the sapling will be planted at the foot of the Erna and Arthur Salm Holocaust & Genocide Memorial Grove near the campus lakes area which now features a ten-foot tall light tower sculpture created by SSU Professor Jann Nunn. Signage near the tree will carry the words written by Frank in her diary: "How wonderful it is that nobody need wait a single moment before starting to improve the world."

To greater accomplish its educational goals, the Anne Frank Center USA (AFC) together with the Anne Frank House in Amsterdam donated the eleven saplings of the Anne Frank Tree to sites across the country.

The Grove is designed to honor survivors and victims of the genocides committed throughout the world, including the Native American Genocide, the Armenian Genocide, the Jewish Holocaust, the Cambodian Genocide, the Rwandan Genocide, and the current-day genocide in Darfur. Another aim of the monument is to recognize educators, scholars and activists working for awareness, tolerance and human rights across the globe.

"The addition of the Anne Frank tree solidifies the SSU campus as a major center on the West Coast for the study of the Holocaust and genocide," says Elaine Leeder, Dean of School of Social Sciences. "It will provide eventually a vast canopy under which the University Holocaust Lecture Series and the academic and educational programs throughout Northern California will continue for generations."

Hans Angress of Santa Rosa, who went to school with Anne Frank in the fall of 1941, says "Anne Frank has become such a symbol of the human toll of intolerance worldwide. I find it wonderful and appropriate that this living asset to SSU's already existing Memorial Grove will be added."

The choice of SSU is a "perfect fit," says Senior Director for Capital Planning, Design and Construction Christopher Dinno. "We live in a world- renowned region with the climate and soil characteristics that are ideal for this historical sapling."

SSU has the experience and resources, including an onsite arborist who can nurture the tree, along with a full complement of landscape specialists that have demonstrated experience to ensure that this sapling grows to full maturity, he says.

Other saplings were sent to: The White House, The Children's Museum of Indianapolis, Southern Cayuga School District, Washington State Holocaust Resource Center, Boston Common, Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., the Holocaust Memorial Center, the Idaho Anne Frank Human Rights Memorial, the William J. Clinton Foundation and the National September 11 Memorial & Museum.

Sapling is thriving in 2011

Education Committee Report

The Education Committee continues to reach out to Sonoma County schools about the lecture series, survivor speakers, and archived lectures. Of special interest, this year included a presentation on the SSU Lecture Series to the principal and staff at Rancho Cotate High School initiated by new Board Member Arline Thomas in conjunction with Board Member Flora Lee Ganzler. Board members Hans Angress and Lillian Mattimore spoke about their personal survivor stories. The information presented by our board members during the half hour allowed by Rancho Cotate was very well received and improve awareness of the value of our program.

Alliance History

The Alliance for the Study of the Holocaust was formed in 1982 on behalf of the victims and survivors of the Holocaust and the need to tell their stories and for others to learn from their experiences. Those who began this collaborative effort between the community and members of the Sonoma State University faculty promised to let the world know of the atrocities that had occurred. The initial intention was primarily to learn the facts, act on them, and never forget.

As a result of these efforts, a highly successful annual lecture series on the Holocaust and Genocide was created at Sonoma State University. As a University-community partnership, the Board includes members of the community, University faculty and administrators, and students who have participated in the Lecture Series. In 2010, the name of the Alliance was changed to the Alliance for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide to reflect its revised mission and its continuing educational commitment to include all those affected by genocide.
